first class passengers returning to spend the summer in the Old Country. From the number of drowned stated in the telegram, we suppose many must have been passengers, and the loss will probably be felt in all the Colonies. The Captain and officers are experienced on the line, and we expect to hear that she has either struck on an unknown reef or foundered during a tempest. By last advices from Australia the weather was very bad in the Torres

THE CLEVELAND STREET SCANDAL Mr Labouchere has asserted that Lord Salisbury warned Lord Arthur Somerset that a warrant was issued against him and he demanded a committee of inquiry. Sir Richard E. Webster refuteu the charge of the connivance of Lord Salisbury, but said he had informed Lieutenant-General Sir D. M. Probyn that a warrant was imminent, although the General never saw Lord Arthur Somerset afterwards. Mr Labouchere declined to take Lord Salisbury's word, and he was then named and suspended.

The three big admitting of Crown presecution in case of coasting companies united four years ago and reduced the rates to the fullowing:-Chief Engineers, $150 (some $200) Second $100; and Third, $70 a month. When the alteration was brought in, says our contemporary, 'it was done in a very diplomatic manner. No man's pay was actually reduced, but each man of the two lower grades on promotion to the higher had to accept the new scale of pay, and all men newly joining came in at the lower tariff. This year we are told the Eugineers held several nicetings at their Institute, and it was decided to again address a letter to the owners and agents of the companies. This they have done, and in that communication they asked that a Chief Engineer's pay should be, on joining or becoming Chief, $175 per month, after two years $185, and after five years $200; Scond Engineer $120, and Third $85. Our contemporary is rather umbiguous with regard to the outcome of the action taken by the ongineers. The China Merchants are said to have offered the following turns:-Chiefs, $150 a mouth, with an incress of $35 after three years' service; Swend, $120; Third, $35. The above anecdote, we description would acarcely be justified by the experiment Col. Beaumont was willing have reason to believe, may be taken as to undertake. I have, as I am sure the Governor had, every belief that Col. Beaumont did possess very toonsiderable scientitic knowledge, and it is quite possible these information that, the head Shroff in the rocks would have been got rid of if he had attempted it, but at the same ti me bear ing in mind the different expensive objects that we are now undertaking in this Colony I did not feel myself justified on the scanty information I had to ask him to undertake this business. The minute which has been read to you proposes that he should be paid his expenses for the fortnight he was here, and of course such cannot be refused, as he remained at the request of the Governor in order to draw up the report about the binsting of these rocks, and the amount he montions does not seem anything very extravagant. The Governor in a minute he wrote previous to his departure stated that Col. Beaumont would also expect something for the report he drew up. Col. Beanmont bas suggested that for this report—it is a pretty lengthy and contains a certain amount of scientific knowledge-he should be paid the sum of fifty pounds. That the Finance Committee will no doubt carefully examine, and they will recommend to the Council such sum as they think in the circumstances Col. Beaumont should receive for drawing up this report. While referring to this subject I will just allude to another one. One of my principal reasons for not asking Col. Beaumont to undertake the experiment have been speaking of was that at present we have a considerable number of big works going on in the colony upon which a large expenditure of money will be necessary. Among others is one of which the Council has already heard, namely, the building of a new bull-room at Governpenditure is guaranteed by the persons ment House. When the estimates were Since then the Surveyor General would cost, and he states that in his estimation the cost would considerably excoed the sum of $25,000; in fact. the catimated cost is $40,000. the Governor expressed a desire before his departure that the Conneil should be made acquainted with this fact. He was anxious, not so much on his own account as on account of the community generally, that this ballroom should be built. There can be no doubt that the acballs and large entertainments is not sufficient, and that it is very expedient W. M. Deane, Acting Colonial Secretary; that a ballroom should be built. But as a sum of only $25,000 was mentioned in the estimates of last year, the Governor did not not like this ball from to be commenced without its being intimated to the Council that the cost would be considerably in excess of the amount in the estimates. The Cogneil will not be asked now for a vote for the increased expenditure, as it is not

This was open to very serious, objection, because judges of the Sopreme Court were called upon to decide questions of fact without seeing the witnesses or having the materials before them for really and properly judging. The present measure was an adaptation of what was known as the Justices's Act 1850 in reference to summay offences and indictable offences, and of the Summary Jurisdiction Act 7876. As regards appeals the Bill was a reproduction of the present law as far as regarded appeals on questions of law, but a new system was adopted with reference to ap- to be circulated. Part 2 related to the constitution of magistrates. As regards police and marine magistrates the law was left as at present, but as regards justices of the peace there were some alterations that were really more apparent then real. 1875, when the provision he had alluded to was passed, justices of the peace had not sat and acted in the same way as magistrates. When a necessity arose owing to a pressure of business which might very easily happen when there was a riot and numerous offences, the practice had been for the Governor to direct two justices of the pence to sit together and act together as a Magistrate, The present ordinance gave expression to the practice, and it was his intention when the Bill was in Commitee to move the addition of a clause providing that the power to issue warrants for the apprehension of diffenders reference to his approaching visit to the Coshould also be retained by the justices long. In the new Bill there were provisions - enabling magistrate in a case where the offence was of a very pality character to discharge without punishment, also power was given to mitigate the sentence, to allow parment to be made by instalment or by security or by recognizances. In sections 39 to 48 were contained very useful provisions as to the issue of committal and distress The want of these provisions had been very much folt, the magistrates clerke having hitherto been acting upon the provisions in the English Act without having them expressly enforced In sections 49 to 54 there were specific provisions for taking recognisances, for giving security for good behaviour, to bind over to keep the peace, stid power to reduce or vary the amount of recognizances and likely that the amount expended this year also power. where the Magistrate had will exceed the sum mentioned in the estimates, but should the ballroom be comthe police and MagistRicy to take these remened before the end of the year it probably cognitances out of Court. the committee's meetings and a cupy of the programme submitted to the Duke, which we published ou Saturday last. The Chairman said the committee would be glad to hear any suggestions that might be made with reference to the programme. Mr G. E. Noble said it would be useless to make any auggestions now, as they must go on with what had been approved by His Royal Highness. Mr J. J. Francis, Q.C., said he had to confess with very great regret that although he had seen a very great many carious things in Houghong he thought the proceedings of this committee were about as comical as anything he had any experience of ... Who appointed the committee? He supposed they were selected by the Governor, but, he presumed, with the view of consulting the community in order to ascertain what should be done. Mr Francis did not think an adjournment would interfere with the progress of of the Government officials. The object of such a meeting could only be ask the community as a whole; not the official community, to co-operate with the Government in the preparations. The attendance at this meeting was not sufficiently numerous to adequately represent the public and no resolution carried at this meeting would adequately, represent public opinion or pledge the public. The committee's proposals having been approved by His Royal Highness, the community were bound to a certain extent to support the committee, but this meeting was not sufficiently large to represent the public. He seconded Mr. I umphrevs' motion. The Chairman did not think sufficient credit was given to the Hon. Secretary (Mr Mitchell Innes) for his exertions and for the manner in which he had worked to obtain the co-operation of the Chinese. He thought from what he had heard that the European community were perfectly satisfied with what they had seen in the papers.

The Chairman said he thought that. Instead of adjourning the meeting, it would be sufficient to send out a circular asking the co-operation of the public in the matter of illuminations, especially on Queen's Road and the Praya.

Mr Francis asked that the molion for adjournment be put to the mosting. The Chairman said he would propose as. an amendment that this meeting be final. The amendment was not seconded, and the motion on being put to the meeting

IMPEACHMENT OF AUSTRALIAN FINANCE. The St. James's Guzette, in a series of articles on Australia, says that all the Leans raised by the Australian colonies are used to foster the state of socialism which figuilnotes the whole labric, as well as the credit system, speculation, and increase of rent and wages, especially in Victoria. Wich loan causes surface prosperity and inflation of business. On the strength of its former reputation Victoria has bound herself to British capitalists. The centralisation of business in Melbourne has starved the country of population and labour, and the country industries are neglected owing to capitalists being unable to hire labour at a price which renders profitable working impossible. The results are unhealthy speculation and the slow debauchery of the national character.
